

Accidental Heroes : A Novel

by Steel, Danielle

9 780525 590378

A heart-stopping thriller that engages ordinary men and women in the fight of their lives during a flight from New York to San Francisco. On a beautiful May morning at New York’s Kennedy airport, two planes have just departed for San Francisco. At a security checkpoint, TSA agent Bernice Adams picks up a postcard of the Golden Gate Bridge bearing an ambiguous - perhaps ominous - message. Her supervisor dismisses her concerns, but Bernice calls security and soon Ben Waterman arrives. A senior Homeland Security agent, still grappling with guilt after a disastrous operation where hostages were killed, Ben too becomes suspicious. Who left the message behind, which flight are they on, and what exactly does it mean?

Atomic City Girls

by Beard, Janet

9 780062 791702

In the bestselling tradition of HIDDEN FIGURES, comes a riveting novel of the everyday women who worked on the Manhattan Project. In November 1944, 18-year-old June Walker boards an unmarked bus, destined for a city that doesn’t officially exist. Oak Ridge, Tennessee has sprung up in a matter of months - a town of trailers and segregated houses, 24-hour cafeterias, and constant security checks. There, June joins hundreds of other young girls operating massive machines whose purpose is never explained. When the bombing of Hiroshima brings the truth about Oak Ridge into devastating focus, June must confront her ideals about loyalty, patriotism, and war itself.

Caribbean Rim

by White, Randy Wayne

9 780525 589150

Doc Ford #25. Marine biologist Doc Ford has been known to help his friends out of jams occasionally, but he’s never faced a situation like this. His old pal Carl Fitzpatrick has been chasing sunken wrecks most of his life, but now he’s run afoul of the Florida Division of Historical Resources. Its director, Clive Nickelby, despises amateur archaeologists, which is bad enough, but now he and his young “assistant” have disappeared - along with Fitzpatrick’s impounded cache of rare Spanish coins and the list of uncharted wreck sites Fitz spent decades putting together. Greed makes people do terrible things: rob, cheat, even kill.

Chicago : A Novel of Prohibition

by Mamet, David

9 780062 835932

A big shouldered, big trouble thriller set in mobbed up 1920s Chicago - a city where some people knew too much, and where everyone should have known better. Mike Hodge - veteran of the Great War, big shot of the Chicago Tribune, medium fry - probably shouldn't have fallen in love with Annie Walsh. Then, again, maybe the man who killed Annie Walsh have known better than to trifle with Mike Hodge. David Mamet has created a bracing, kaleidoscopic page-turner that roars through the Windy City's underground on its way to a thunderclap of a conclusion. Here is not only his first novel in more than two decades, but the book he has been building to for his whole career.

Death in Live Oak : A Jack Swyteck Novel

by Grippando, James

Jack Swyteck #14, following MOST DANGEROUS PLACE. When the body of Jamal Cousin, president of the pre-eminent black fraternity at the Florida’s flagship university, is discovered hogtied in the Stygian water swamps, the death sets off a firestorm that threatens to rage out of control when a fellow student, the president of a prominent white fraternity, is accused of the crime. Contending with rising political tensions, racial unrest, and a sensational media, defence attorney, Jack Swyteck, fears the worst. Then Jack gets a break that could turn the case. Jamal’s gruesome murder bears disturbing similarities to another lynching that occurred back in the Jim Crow days of 1944.
